

About Kathryn Eriksen

I am a former attorney and litigator who now spreads the message of Women's Wealth. Money is a mysterious subject for many women, because they have not learned how to access their Feminine Money Super Powers of awareness, intuition and abundance.

Empowered Way Coaching

I created Empowered Way Coaching to help women learn how to be with money, as a woman. When women learn how to peacefully create abundant wealth, the world is a much better place.

Why Don't Women Understand Money?

Women are taught about money from a masculine perspective – linear, process-driven and data supported. This is a fine approach to manage a portfolio or save for a big expense, but it ignores the feminine side of money.

When women treat money from masculine energy, they never quite measure up. Either the results are not what they planned for, or they feel lacking in an essential area, always falling short of their male counterparts. It can be humiliating, devastating and embarrassing, and the woman usually turns these reactions inward, making herself to blame.

But here's the secret: she isn't to blame; she just doesn't know how to be with money using feminine energy!

Women and Empowered Way

After completing the Empowered Money Map Course, my clients all say the same thing – that their relationship to money has transformed and now they are free to be wealthy. It's just one of the benefits of learning their money patterns, identifying where they sabotage themselves, and how to make more empowered choices.

The end result is clear decision making, concise evaluation of a financial decision from inner knowledge about her sacred strengths and gifts, and a peaceful relationship with money and wealth.
